Bucks County Candidates
Wind Up Election Grind

Rival Party

Big Victory
80 Per Cent Of

Voters Expected Out

By GORDON PARKER

With the election just four days away Bucks County leaders of both parties took time out today from their last-minute campaigning to issue victory predictions for their own candidates.

The Democrats and Republicans both expect to win in next Tuesday's balloting. They anticipate about 80 per cent of the county's 112,000 voters to go to the polls.

While the leaders were predicting victory the individual candidates kept up their campaigning with attacks on each other and promises to the voters.

Officials Watch Neshaminy Creek

The mischievous Neshaminy Creek overflowed its banks a couple of feet this morning, but no serious damage was reported or predicted. More light rain through the weekend, however, is expected.

At Hulmeville, where the creek waters have been low since last summer, the low mill roadway by the Neshaminy bridge was flooded and turned into a dam. However, no feeling of alarm was noted among borough residents, who were victims of a treacherous flood last year.

Middletown township police received reports of overflowing creek banks at Playwick Park, not affecting any homes, and kept an eye on the creek waters at other locations.

That more high water, but not large amounts, is due, was indicated by a check further upstream at Edison, of Route 611, where the creek overflowed its narrow bed.

Bath Road Hazard

Bath road, a trouble spot due to drainage difficulties, vexed Lower Bucks motorists this morning. Baricades were erected on the road near the Lower Bucks County Hospital, to keep them out of the puddles.

Light and scattered rains were forecast to continue through the weekend, in a gloomy forecast from the U. S. Weather Bureau. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Up-State Rains Flood Cellars

LEWISTOWN, Pa. UP — A local cloudburst plus steady rain caused flooding in the basements of virtually every home in the nearby community of Maitland last night.

Civil Defense units from here were dispatched to the scene to assist residents in pumping water from the cellars of some 30 homes. U. S. Route 522, linking Lewistown and Sunbury, was limited to one-way traffic during most of the night, due to debris washed on the roadway by runoff water from the mountains and swollen local streams.

U. S. Route 22 between Mifflintown and Thompsonstown also was closed by debris for several hours during the night.

Heavy rains in Perry County flooded Sherman's Creek between Loysville and Kistler, blocking roads in the vicinity and sending water over the countryside.

Raging Fire Dims 113 Miners' Rescue

SPRINGHILL, Nova Scotia — UP—Reports that a fire was raging in the mine where more than 100 men are trapped dimmed hopes today that they could be rescued.

Rescuers earlier had heard answering taps on an air pipe and an oxygen hose had been lowered in hopes some of the 113 men left in the mine could reach it.

Thirteen men were known dead following an explosion which rocked the mine yesterday.

Seven others, including five killed in an explosion and fire near the pithead late Thursday and two volunteers who died during rescue attempts, brought the expected toll to 125 in one of coal mining's greatest disasters.

George Caldwell, manager of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co., told a reporter as dawn began to break over this bleak town of 8,000 persons. "There is still hope but only a faint hope, that the men are alive."

Caldwell would not commit himself further. But crowds of quietly-sobbing wives and children, and old men who worked in the pits in their youth, milled around beside the mine, refusing to believe some could not be saved.

Several persons were near the scene when the explosion occurred. "It was just like an atomic bomb," said 39-year-old Ed Cameron.

American Sponsored Resolution Passed At Emergency Session

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — UP — The United Nations General Assembly overwhelmingly approved early today an American-sponsored resolution demanding that Britain, France and Israel cease their fight against Egypt.

During the marathon debate on the resolution, Canadian Foreign Minister Lester Pearson urged that the U. N. carry its struggle for peace even further. With the backing of Britain he suggested that a conference be called to bring about an overall Palestine settlement and that a U. N. police force be set up to keep the peace until such a final settlement is reached.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said he supported both of Pearson's ideas after the General Assembly had approved the American resolution on an immediate cease fire in the present conflict.

"I want to emphasize my complete agreement," Dulles said, adding that he also expressed the feeling of President Eisenhower.

The resolution passed in the pre-dawn hours this morning by a vote of 64 to 5, with six abstentions, called upon Israel to withdraw its troops promptly from Egyptian soil and urged Britain and France to halt the movement of military forces and arms into the embattled area.

In London, Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden refused to answer opposition Labor Party demands in the House of Commons for an immediate answer to the U. N. demand.

Pope Pleads For Peace

VATICAN CITY — UP — Pope Pius XII appealed today for an end to fighting in the Middle East.

In a direct appeal to the leaders of the nations involved in the Suez conflict, the Pontiff warned that "a war, started as a little spark, can spread into an enormous fire."

The Pope made his appeal, which did not put the blame for the Middle Eastern war on either side, in an encyclical opening of a worldwide crusade of prayer for peace in the Middle East as well as Hungary.

"It is not with arms, not with slaughter, not with ruins that disputes between men are solved, but only through reason, law, prudence and equity," the Pope said.

"Let those who hold in their hands the fate of peoples, remember that no lasting good can ever arise from war but only a great quantity of evils and calamities."

Pennsbury Scholarship Group Plans Million-Dollar Fund

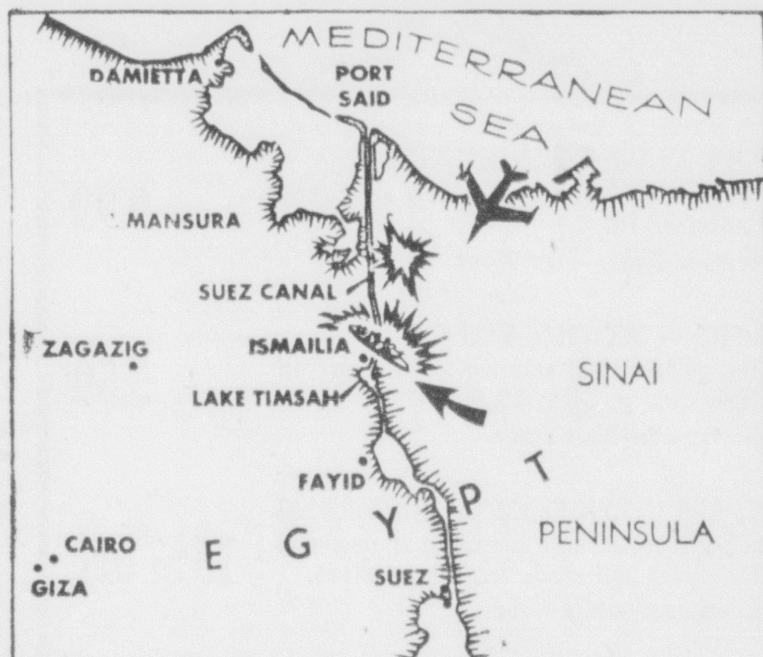

The Pennsbury Scholarship Foundation's board of directors will meet tonight to set the program and policy of the newly-formed organization.

The meeting, to be held at the Fallsington School, Yardley avenue, Fallsington, will begin at 8 p.m., and discuss means of raising the $1,000,000 intended as the foundation's capital fund. The organization is believed to be the first of its kind developed on the public high school level.

The organization was incorporated last week on a non-profit basis. Its purpose is to raise the capital fund and then offer scholarships from the interest, to needy and capable students of the Pennsbury Joint School District.

Clifford C. Nelson, Yardley, president of the foundation, and Medill Bair, regional superintendent of Pennsbury Schools and a director in the foundation, said that due to increasing costs of college education, many families who could previously send their children to college now find it impossible to do so.

Soviet Armor Mounts Attack On Budapest

Troop Movements Trigger New Wave Of Fear In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary — UP — Two fresh divisions of Soviet armor were reported rolling toward Budapest today in spite of Hungary's protests. Soviet armored forces surrounded all Hungarian air bases.

The heavy Soviet troop movements triggered a new wave of fear, blackouts and alerts across revolution-torn Hungary and its shattered capital city.

Russia dispatched the fresh divisions into Hungary Thursday despite Premier Imre Nagy's protests to Soviet Ambassador J. B. Andropov and sent Soviet units already there into alert positions around Hungarian air bases.

From Romania and Russia

Informed sources said the Soviet reinforcements crossed into Hungary from Romania and Russia.

The nationalist-controlled radio at Nyregyhasa, 40 miles from the Russian border, said Soviet troops built pontoon bridges over the Sajo River apparently to bypass the main Budapest approach through Miskolc, one of the strongest anti-Communist strongholds.

Nyregyhasa radio said the Soviet troop movements touched off fears of hostile air attack. It said military councils at the major eastern cities of Debrecen, Miskolc and Szolnok ordered precautionary blackouts.

Task Fleet, Troops Set For Invasion

Egyptian Air Force Virtually Destroyed By Allied Bombings

LONDON—(UP)—The Anglo-French command claimed today to have wiped out the Egyptian air force. It broadcast warnings to the Egyptian people indicating that the invasion of the Suez Canal Zone was imminent.

Britain's Cyprus radio warned Arab listeners that "our warships will disembark tanks and guns on Egyptian soil."

A communique issued at Anglo-French expeditionary headquarters on Cyprus named land, sea and air commanders for the final operation.

British and French jet fighters and bombers from Cyprus and aircraft carriers off both ends of the canal diverted some of their attacks on Egyptian airfields to troop concentrations.

Assumes Full Power

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, assuming virtual dictatorial powers in his role as military governor general abandoned Sinai Desert positions to Israeli attackers and was concentrating his forces west of the canal for promised "total war."

Invasion Israeli forces claimed to have taken over virtually the entire Sinai peninsula, including Gaza, a city of about 40,000, and the Gaza Strip jammed with more than 200,000 Palestinian refugees.

Capture of the Sinai peninsula meant that the Israelis had taken over Egyptian territory 240 miles long and 130 miles deep at its widest point.

In addition to Gaza, the Israelis claimed to hold the vital Abu Athela road junction, the Red Sea islands of Tirah and Senabahr and the road to Port Said — a coastal route the Egyptians had planned to use as an escape route.

An Israeli spokesman said other troops had "entered" Al Arish, 50 miles west of Gaza.

May Stop Fire

Bucks Candidates Winding Up Grind

Duff, Republican seeking reelection, will carry the county by 5000 votes with Willard S. Curtin winning over his Democratic opponent by 6000.

Ziegler's Democratic counterpart, James C. Bowen, claims John P. Fullam will win over Curtin and that Joseph S. Clark will beat out Duff for the Senate seat. Bowen made no mention of the presidential race except to say that Fullam and Clark "will run well ahead of the national ticket."

The Democrats held a county-wide pre-election rally last night at Buckingham to give party workers last minute instructions to insure a heavy turnout.

Curtin will carry his campaign to the final bell. He will speak at a rally of the Hilltown Republican Club, Dublin, tonight.

GOP Tour

Tomorrow he will take part in a 150-car caravan through the western end of Lower Bucks County. The other three local GOP candidates will also participate in the tour which will end up in the Southampton Fire house. The caravan will visit Bensalem and Lower Southampton townships during the afternoon.

The other candidates are Rudolph Kraus, Marvin Keller and Margarette Kooker, all running for State Assembly.

In addition, Curtin will give a radio broadcast at noon Monday and expects to meet with the Bristol Elks Monday evening. He feels the most important issue in the closing days of the campaign is the international situation arising from the events in the Middle East.

Fullam announced that he will carry his campaign "right to the Republican doorsteps." He plans to visit Republican voters in Lower and Upper Makefield and Upper and Lower Southampton townships in the final days of the campaign. In addition, his campaign staff will telephone registered Republican voters.

The campaigning is still hot and heavy for the Second District State Assembly seat where Kraus is opposing Democratic incumbent A. Patrick Brennan.

Kraus, who has a series of weekend meetings with various party workers planned, labeled Brennan as "probably the least progressive candidate for office in Pennsylvania."

He said Brennan is "not only against hospitalization but introduced bills in the legislature to keep the Western Savings Fund Society out of Bucks County."

Kraus, who proposed a hospitalization plan similar to workmen's compensation, said Brennan thinks it is "too progressive."

He also said Brennan sided with the "big commercial banks of the area against the savings fund societies, the workmen's banks."

Kraus received the support of his Republican primary election opponent, Harry W. Fritz, Lower Southampton Republican chairman.

Fritz said, "I was beaten (in the primary election) because of Mr. Kraus' extreme popularity in Assembly District 2. He has an acute knowledge of the people's needs and is inherently honest. For these reasons I have supported him to the utmost during this campaign and I urge all voters in the Second Assembly District to support him accordingly."

Brennan in the meantime was charging Kraus with "complete duplicity and misrepresentation on the Philadelphia wage tax."

The Democrat said he and seven Republicans fought in vain, without the help of Bucks County's two Republican representatives, to have the city wage tax removed.

Brennan Sounds Off

"My own opponent, Rudy Kraus, has completely falsified the facts about this fight against the wage tax. He's so busy operating overweight trucks and scrambling for political paving contracts that he's forgotten how to tell the truth," Brennan also said he introduced 47 bills in the Assembly, more than the two Republican representatives and State Senator from Bucks put together.

Last night Brennan was backed by 22 members of school boards from the District. The 22 included both Republicans and Democrats. They recommended Brennan for his work with the Bucks County executive School board, with the committee for the Bucks County Vocational School and also with the group that is trying to bring a junior college to Lower Bucks.

CD Discusses Evacuation Plan For 4-Mile Morrisville Radius

With British and French jet bombers pounding Egypt in an opening naval-air assault, 35 Bucks countians met Wednesday in a special conference at the county's Civil Defense office in the courthouse to exchange ideas concerning the protection of lives in time of a war disaster.

The conference, conducted by Col. A. M. Heritage, executive director of CD in Bucks county, had to do mostly with the protection of those people living within a four-mile radius of the center of Morrisville, and how they could be evacuated and placed in Haycock Township in northern Bucks county.

After six years of working with the problem of Civil Defense in Bucks County, Colonel Heritage explained that his office has information obtained from the National Civil Defense Exercise last July, that there is a grave possibility of at least one bomb scheduled for dropping over the city of Trenton, N. J., having missed its target and landing in Morrisville.

Envision Bomb

"Due to the fact that the most active minds working on National Civil Defense envisioned one bomb of the mega size and three of the kiloton size, the bomb which might have dropped on Morrisville would probably have been of about 20 kiloton size, which by the way is the size of the bomb dropped on Hiroshima during World War 2," Colonel Heritage explained.

Colonel Heritage told the group that the Bucks county Civil Defense thought it advisable to call together key personnel to look into the problem and try to come up with a rough general plan of survival.

"There are many phases of survival, one being adequate shelters, another being evacuation, and a third being dispersal," Col. Heritage said.

Due to the fact that many of the people living within a four-mile radius of the heart of Morrisville are employed in some capacity at the Fairless plant of the U. S. Steel, the phase of a solution of dispersal can only hope to play a minor part, Col. Heritage stated.

Shelter Phases

The phases of the solution dealing with shelter would cost an unobtainable amount of money. This leaves evacuation as being the most likely to be used, especially in a strategic evacuation where practically all the persons unessential to the war effort could be moved within a period of time, provided that period of time were used for that purpose.

Answers to some of the questions asked by the group:

There are 30,000 people estimated living within a four mile radius of the heart of Morrisville on the Pennsylvania side.

Of the estimated 30,000 people, at least 10,000 are employed in direct essentials of the war effort.

Estimated that 7500 people in the area could supply their own transportation . . . people not engaged in the war effort.

People living in Bucks county are being taught to survive enemy disaster through schools and PTA's.

Thirteen large mass care centers have been set up in Bucks county. There are 40 auxiliary mass care centers in the county.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

How many Halloweeners did you have at your door this week?

A quick check of Levittown families this morning, revealed an amazing number of "trick or treaters" Wednesday night. In spite of the rainy weather, the average was between 40 and 50 callers at each home. Just think what it would have been, if the Bell, 34 Timber lane, Thornridge, was doing fine until last night, then someone decided that the limbs were getting too big, and cut them off to within one foot of the top of the ten-foot tree. All that's left is the trunk and a few puny branches on top.

Plant Accident Injures Man

A Trenton man was injured in Morrisville last night in an accident at the Vulcanized Rubber and Plastics Co., South Pennsylvania avenue.

James Fowler, 43, of 122 West Scott avenue, second shift foreman, was rushed to Mercer Hospital about 9:25 p.m. yesterday after an injection press he was working with jammed and clamped down on both of his hands.

Hospital officials said that Fowler suffered deep cuts and multiple fractures of both hands, and remains in "fair" condition at the hospital.

He was taken to the hospital by a Union Fire company ambulance of Morrisville. Officers Stanley Naprawa and Mahlon Cummings of the Morrisville Police department investigated the accident.

bombing of Egyptian military targets. Today, British twin-jet Canberras knocked out the Cairo radio transmitter.

Communications said bombers and rocket-firing fighters of the joint command had put more than 120 Egyptian planes out of action on the ground, effectively crippling the Egyptian air force. The French defense ministry said the "essential destruction of Egyptian airpower could be considered complete."

A British and French naval task force sealed off the northern and southern approaches to the Suez Canal today to establish unchallenged supremacy at all sea approaches to Egypt.

Military censorship surrounded all moves of the combined fleet but it was believed the troops with it were ready to launch an immediate strike on Egyptian soil once the word is given.

Israel, which reported a major victory in the Sinai Desert Thursday between the Suez Canal and the Israeli border, reported today its troops had captured the Egyptian base of Gaza and were fighting in El Arish, 50 miles to the west.

There was every indication the Anglo - French aerial assault against Egypt would be pressed even harder despite the U. N. General Assembly's appeal for a cease fire in the Middle East.

Falls Plans Ruling On Zone Appeal

The Falls Township Zoning Board of Adjustment, through its solicitor, William Heffner, is preparing a statement of its decision of the Thirteenth, requested a meeting of the board last week. David Sherman, manager of the Thirteenth, requested a zoning variance to allow the mart to erect an amusement park adjacent to the store.

Residents of Trenton road, Pennsylvania avenue, and the Vermilion Hill section of Levittown protested the change, claiming the addition of the park will depreciate the value of their land, create additional traffic congestion, noise and illumination.

Police Probe 2 Burglaries At Club, Office

Bristol borough police are investigating two burglaries reported early yesterday, at the Democratic Club at the rear of 515 Wood street, and the M. Berrie Advertising office, 445 Mill street.

Both were discovered at about 9 a.m. yesterday, when the establishments were opened for the day. Detective Vincent Faragalli was called to the scene with Patrolmen William Bolton and Fidel Esposito.

A locked cash register containing $6 was removed from the Democratic Club, with several measuring caps taken from liquor bottles at the bar. Police said the intruder forced a window and door to get in.

Mike Berrie, owner of the advertising firm, said a polaroid camera, with a flash attachment and light meter, valued at $100, was taken from the office. Also stolen, the advertising man said, were two imported artist's brushes, worth $30 each, a $5 drafting set and $20 worth of stamps.

The rear door to Mr. Berrie's office was forced, and the office ransacked.

one big bang. My brother was in the mine. I got straight down there in my car. The place was all in a mess.

"There were six inch timbers splintered to bits. I saw the first man come out. All the hair was burned off the top of his head. The rescue workers had stripped off his clothes because they were burning. He was naked except for his miners boots and a belt. There must have been about 2,000 people around.

Scene Of Horror

"Then I learned my brother was in No. 2 and was O.K. The next man out was dead. He was wrapped in a blanket. I helped one man to the hospital. He was so badly burned his skin was red and black and white. In the hospital they said they held his arms with sheets and pillows so they wouldn't chafe."

One of the biggest rescue and relief operations in Canada's history was organized soon after the initial blast shattered equipment and claimed its first victims at the No. 4 pithead.

The navy, army and Red Cross flew in blood plasma, other medical supplies, blankets and food by plane and helicopter from points several hundred miles apart. The city of Halifax, 150 miles south of here, pledged its full resources. The army sent soldiers by truck, car and jeep and turned the Springhill Armory into a disaster reception center. A temporary hospital equipped with camp beds was set up in the mine yard.

Officials

The forecasters said it will remain cloudy as well.

At the same time, a monthly weather summary for October, released today by the Rohm and Haas weather observatory, reported that the just-completed month was somewhat rainier than normal. Total rainfall was 3.06 inches, an inch more than the average October.

Last month was a typical October for temperature and sunshine, however. The average temperature was 53.8 degrees. The Rohm and Haas thermometer rose to 83 October 15 and 16 as Bristol began festively celebrating its 275th anniversary. The celebration evidently warmed up the town. Just before it started, October 11 and 12, the mercury hit a cold 38.

To measure the rising waters near his home at 3508 Riverside avenue, Fergusonville, Alvin Martin, a student at Benjamin Franklin Junior High School, put a stick in the creek bank nearby. From 9:30 to 11 a.m. today, he said, the water rose about three inches.

Twelve fraternity brothers and ten or more pledges of Sigma Alpha Rho, Delta Theta Chapter, volunteered their efforts to the cause. Equipped with United Fund kits, the boys will knock on doors in Indian Creek and also five Oaktree Hollow streets in an "all-out blitz" tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. use of force, not only in Egypt, but in Poland and Hungary.

Mr. Eisenhower, addressing himself to the grave crisis in the Middle East, declared:

Acting As President

"I shall continue to take all actions and decision in these times, not as a candidate for office, but as President of the United States. Shouts of "No! No!" echoed in the hall when he posed the question of what would have happened to national security had this nation followed Stevenson's plans to halt H-bomb tests and end the draft.

Mr. Eisenhower did not mention Stevenson by name but his target was plain when he referred to the H-bomb and draft proposals.

In Buffalo, before a crowd of 14,000, Stevenson centered his final campaign drive on the President's "failure" to prevent war in the Middle East.

Stevenson's address, delivered on free television and radio time, was his reply to the President's TV-radio speech Wednesday night.
